

A warm Welsh welcome to gay-friendly Wales

You'll find a warm welcome and a clean, fresh feel at The White House in Swansea, now boasting four stars. This prominent Victorian villa, with free Wi-Fi throughout, is run by Mike and Phil...

"Located just one mile from downtown Swansea, we're close to shops, restaurants and, of course, the gay bars. The seafront and beach is just a five-minute walk! Swansea's friendly gay nightlife centers around the High Street. Start off in Talk of the Town, the Kings Arms or Champers, Swansea's oldest gay pub which has recently had a make-over. Finish off in the club '2 Ten'. Nearby Exchange Bar has a lively late scene. (You can get a feel for the local scene at www.gayswansea.com.)"

A very warm welcome from Andy & Julian Banner-Price to Plas Dinas Country House, near Caernarfon in North Wales...

"We offer you four-star comfort in a peaceful location with stunning views and 10 individually styled bedrooms in a historic house with royal links. We're not an exclusively gay hotel, but we're about as gay-friendly as you can get. There's loads to do in the area and, with good road links, everywhere is quick and easy to get to. Some of our closest attractions are Caernarfon Castle which is a World Heritage Site, and the Welsh Highland Railway - a steam train that runs under the end of our drive then up into the Snowdonia National Park mountains."

Whether you want to tour beautiful countryside or bask on the sandy beaches, shop till you drop, or just lounge around in the tranquility of our grounds – it is all here. Accommodation is available for parties from one to six people at a time. We're perfectly located for walking, close to the Pembrokeshire coastal path, Presili Hills and Cambrian Mountains."*
